Delmond's foie gras production facilities, a project by SPIE Ouest-Centre.

Delmond is a specialist in foie gras production and distribution. From June to October 2012 at Delmond's site in Vezac (France), SPIE Ouest-Centre Process Department teams developed mechanical, automated and industrial IT equipment for a machine-operated production line with dynamic storage, including:

- Mechanical and electromechanical design and development (Mechanical Design and Solutions activity)
- Product collection on the packaging line
- Development of carton-packing stations
- Food conveyance network using empty cartons
- Power supply for the automated storage system
- Development of box packing stations (filling orders) for products retrieved by the automated storage system
- Development of palette packing stations
- Design and development of automation and IT applications (food industry activity)
- Assembly of mechanical and electrical equipment
