Press release

Cyril Pouet is appointed director of SPIE Telecom Services operations

Cergy, 5 February 2013 □ SPIE has announced the appointment of Cyril Pouet as director of Group Telecoms Services operations.

Aged 40, Cyril Pouet trained as an electrical engineer at Polytech Nantes school of engineering and holds a post-graduate diploma (DEA) in hyper frequencies from the University of Nantes. After joining SPIE Ouest-Centre as a contract manager in 1996, he became director of the Telecoms Services department and then director of Commercial Development, Strategy and Communications. The SPIE Group Telecoms operations department he has now taken charge of was set up on 1st January 2013. This new department will direct telecommunication operator service operations in France. On the European level, it will supervise telecommunications service operations, promote experience exchanges and best practices among different countries, and provide the general management with a comprehensive overview of the market. The Telecoms operations department is attached to the SPIE Group strategy and development department.
