Event

SPIE Communications at the Information Security Fair

From the 2nd to the 5th of October 2013 in Monaco, the greatest annual ISS decision makers event will take place.

How is the development of smart buildings affecting the security of information systems?

That's the topic SPIE Communications has chosen to cover at the Assises de la Sécurité information security fair to be held in Monaco.

This will provide the opportunity to put forward the new challenges of "e-efficient" (smart, connected buildings, on the basis of actual cases.

This annual information security fair, which attracts decision-makers in the field of information system security, provides a forum for the discussion of the latest trends and innovations in IT security.
