Press release

SPIE confirms its progress in the urban security market

SPIE Ile-de-France Nord-Ouest has been entrusted with the installation of an urban video surveillance system by the French town of Vaujours, (Seine-Saint-Denis).

The work, to be carried out in 2013, covers the supply, installation and adjustment of:

- sixteen 360° dome cameras for surveillance of the urban environment,
- transmission equipment of local radio loop type to relay images to the local municipal police office and then to the police station at Livry-Gargan,
- active equipment for recording and playback at the urban surveillance centre.

The awarding of this contract demonstrates the customer's confidence in SPIE and is a mark of recognition of the quality of the work done by our teams in this field. In 2012, SPIE Ile-de-France Nord-Ouest took orders worth a total of nearly €7 million from some 10 local authorities for urban video surveillance systems. Contacts Didier Jacquet
